

INTERNET PRIVACY POLICY

When you visit our website to view any pages, or read product information you do so without telling us who you are and without revealing any personal information. While we do not collect identifying information about visitors to our site, we do use standard software to collect information for the strict purpose on tracking activity on our site. This allows us to better understand how many people use our site and which pages and features are most popular. The only information we normally collect and store is:

- The name of your Internet Service Provider;
- The website that referred you to us (if any);
- The date and time the pages were accessed; and
- The page or pages you requested

There are instances where you may elect to provide us with personal information. If you fill our one of our feedback forms or request forms, or send us e-mail, you are transmitting the information that appears to you in the form or the message. This might include information like your name, mailing address, e-mail address, and any other information necessary to fulfill your request. This information is used internally only for the purpose of fulfilling the request or for contacting you directly and is not given or sold to any other organization.

When you send us an e-mail, that information is not encrypted and can be intercepted by a third party. When sending the bank an e-mail please do not include sensitive information such as account numbers, account logins, social security numbers, or any other personal information that is sensitive. Please contact the bank directly if you need to relay this type of information to the bank.

Our website is not targeted or marketed to children.
